It's so hard reach consumers nowadays.

People skip and "x" out ads on their phones and TVs. Gas Pump advertising offers a great captive audience:

- 4-5 minute average dwell time at the pump to see and read your ad.
- Average distance to your ad is less than 30 inches from customer.
- About 62% of people go inside the store at the gas station to buy something
- Our frames will sell your product or service!

Our frames are better than on screen pump ads

Pump screen ads can only be seen by the person pumping gas and are constantly changing, very distracting. Not seen as the driver approaches the pump, not seen by any passengers.

Our pump ads are easily seen by the driver and passengers as car approaches the pumps, by the person pumping gas, by any passengers waiting in the car who can influence purchases. Eye level ads are the key. The message is seen and understood.
